The Force is with Jennifer Landa and Joshua Busch, whose amazing Star Wars-themed wedding will give you FOMO.

A self-described "lifelong fan" of the film franchise, Landa knew she wanted to include it in the wedding details somehow, while still keeping the event classy.

"We tried to create an atmosphere that was whimsical, romantic, and modern," she told Green Wedding Shoes.

For the most part, she kept the details subtle – a blinged-out Stormtrooper belt here, a flower girl in Leia buns there – but she couldn't resist having two real-life Stormtroopers preside over the entire affair.

"It was an absolute dream come true!" she gushed.

Photographer Cacá Santoro, who documented the entire event, was also a fan of the Stormtroopers.

"[They] escorted the bride and groom during their portrait session on the streets of downtown L.A., which was quite a fun experience," she told Green Wedding Shoes.

And what Star Wars-themed wedding would be complete without Darth Vader? Much to Landa's surprise, her father donned the baddie's suit (complete with breathing apparatus and lightsaber) for their dance together.

Guests partied into the night with lightsabers of their own. "We both felt so loved and grateful to have all our family and friends there celebrating with us," Landa said.

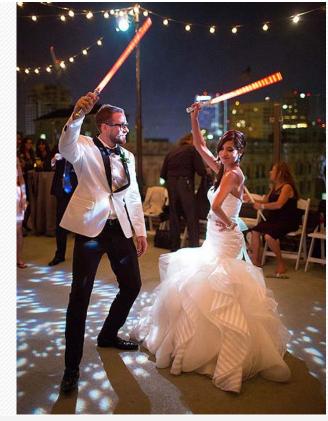

"It was ... the perfect way to begin our new life together!"
